

ST JOSEPH'S INSTITUTION
INTERNATIONAL SCHOOL

"Enter to Learn, Leave to Serve"

Common Assessment Template

EAL Year 8, term 1a

Focus of assessment: Travel writing, hotel brochures - writing to persuade

Date of Assessment: Week commencing 22nd September (for 3 lessons)

Description of assessment: You are going to create a brochure for an imaginary hotel. Whilst your brochure should be visibly appealing, you will need to consider the information you include and the effectiveness of the language you use.

In creating your brochure, you must consider audience, purpose and features (format) and ensure that these are consistent throughout your work. Your word choice needs to appeal to your guest and the type of information you give needs to be relevant to the task.

The hotel itself can be made up, but draw inspiration from the different hotels we have seen in lessons.

Try to include as much detail as possible, including the following:

- What is the unique selling point of your hotel? Or in other words, what makes it special?
- How guests will travel there and where they will stay.
- What other facilities can be accessed by guests in or around the hotel.
- Any other practical information you think is relevant.

Marking criteria

Content features
You have included key details about your hotel (unique selling point, location, attractions)
You have included information relevant to the audience and purpose of your brochure.
You have demonstrated a high level of creativity and originality.
Language features

You have used a range of language which would persuade people to stay at your hotel.
Your language choice is appropriate for your target audience
Use have started one sentence with an ING
You have included specific vocabulary related to staying in a hotel
You demonstrated good spelling, punctuation and grammar.
Presentation features
You have considered the features and format of your brochure
You have thought about the layout and used picture, headlines and other features in a considered way.
Overall your brochure is appealing

You will be awarded up to 10 marks for the following categories:

Task completion

Content features

Language features

Additionally you will be awarded up to 5 marks for presentation.

Suggested Revision Approaches: Make sure you gather a good range of more ambitious adjectives which you can use to persuade your readers. Ensure you also know what key details you should include to make your brochure effective.